

Councilman Jamal Fox is a former North Carolina Agricultural & Technical State University Political Science Adjunct Professor, community advocate, youth mentor, and political leader. On November 2013, he was elected to the Greensboro City Council representing District 2 as the youngest elected ever in Greensboro.

Jamal Fox has a clear vision for his community and works diligently to assist his city in meeting the mission set by working to achieve economic wealth and developing opportunities that empower a community. He has also served on the Boards of numerous civic and government organizations including Board of Directors, Guilford County Safer Schools, Guilford County Transportation Board, and Chair of the Minority Affairs Caucus of the Young Democrats of North Carolina to name a few.

Fox was born in Fredericksburg, Va. and raised in Greensboro, NC. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Capella University. He is a product of Guilford County Schools where he gives back through guest lectures and motivational talks to k-12 students.

Fox's philosophy is to always believe in yourself, your dreams, and to always strive to make a difference in the lives of others.
